Ohtaka Shinobu Q&A:
Q: Out of all the ladies he's met, who are his favorites?
A: Probably Saasa or Dunya. Aladdin can tell immediately when a woman will be tolerant and forgiving of his actions.

Q: What did he do about food and bathing in the holy grounds?
A: One can't go hungry or get dirty in the holy grounds so neither were necessary

Q: Could a toothpick be used as a magic staff?
A: It could, but a staff has to be a certain length and strength or else it can't give orders to the rukh properly. Also, it's important how easy it is to use the staff.

Aladdin Q&A
Q: You're always so cheerful, but what is the source of that cheerfulness?
A: Delicious food and pretty, kind ladies! As a magi, I have to travel a lot and sometimes it gets pretty tough. But if there are pretty ladies with me, then I feel like I can get through anything.
Q: Do you like ladies… because you're purely seeking out a mother's touch?
A: I don't really know, but I love soft ladies. I also love books that have lots of ladies in them. Ufufu. It was really funny when I showed it to Ugo-kun and he got all embarrassed. Ufufufufu.
Q: What do you honestly think of Alibaba, who's a late bloomer with the ladies?
A: Ummm, Let's see. Well Alibaba-kun is Alibaba-kun.
Q: Huh? What do you mean by that?
A: Alibaba-kun isn't a late bloomer because he wants to be. How do I say this… in other words… he's just not popular.
Q: His looks aren't bad, and he's a nice person too so why…?
A: Yeah. But when he's around girls, he gets carried away and fails most of the time. In other words he's just the unfortunate type… I wish for him to try harder and become happy.
Q: What is the line between "mister (onii-san)" and "uncle (oji-san)" for you?
A: It's not like there's a clear-cut line… but how he looks and his aura? Like, Sindbad oji-san (age 31) and Kouen oji-san (age 29) are both really cool but I'm a bit too far in age to call them "onii-san." Ah, but women will always be "onee-san!"

Alibaba Saluja

- How they like to spend their days off: Reading Sindbad's adventures, writing his own adventures
- Worries: Balbadd
- Weakness: Gains weight easily

Ohtaka Shinobu Q&A
Q: Was Alibaba's first kiss taken by Elizabeth?
A: First of all, we don't know if that was his first kiss (lol) However, since Elizabeth is the no. 1 hostess, she probably wouldn't do anything that he really didn't want.

Q: When Alibaba saw his life flashing before him, what place did Sharrkan rank in remembering him?
A: I believe you see everything at once when your life flashes before you so, order doesn't matter! He probably did think about him! [tn: referring to this]

Q: How many centimeters has Alibaba's horn (hair) grown? Is it possible to pull it off?
A: His horn is just bedhead so you can't pull it off! I don't know how many centimeters it's grown but it looks like it's growing everyday.

Alibaba Q&A:
Q: What is the thing you want most?
A: Let's see…. "love" I suppose.
Q: There are different types of love, like unconditional love for humanity or a respectful kind of love?
A: Of course I mean "romantic love!" I don't want lots of love but I want just one person to fall in love with me!! Because of the stuff that happened between my mom and dad a long time ago, I want to give my all in making just that special one happy. Do you understand!?
Q: Y-yes. You sure are passionate.
A: That's just how serious I am.
Q: In other words, you want to be popular?
A: That's separate from what I'm talking about! Just because I want a girlfriend, doesn't mean I'm gonna throw away my desire to be cool and popular! Doesn't that go for any man!?
Q: Simply put, you "want to be popular?"
A: …..yes (quietly)
Q: Are you on good terms with your djinn, product of love Amon?
A: Yeah, I have a good relationship with Amon. Even though he nags every time I see him and it's gross that he gets all jealous even though he's an old man, he's still my important partner I got from the first dungeon I conquered!! We've gone through tough times together so you could say our hearts are connected. Personally, I would have been happier with a female djinn!
Q: A grandma djinn?
A: No, no, no!! Not an old lady, but a young, cute lady djinn!! No problems if she was sexy too!!
(Sword glows as if it's angry)
A: Ugh!! I'm sorry Amon!! It's not that I have any problems with you!! Thank you for always being with me!!
Q: You sound like a man that's committed adultery.
A: Y- you're wrong!! (cries)
Q: This has been Alibaba who's not popular with the ladies but popular with other living beings.
A: Don't end it like this!! (sob)

Ohtaka Shinobu Q&A:
Q: How many people could she carry in one go? How many Alibabas would it be?
A: Well since she could lift up boulders, Alibaba would be too small of a unit of measurement (lol) It's hard to hold a lot of people, so it's more important knowing how to hold all of them.

Q: Does she have a specialty dish (in cooking)?
A: Morgianna's not good at handling delicate things so she's not good at cooking. She gets frustrated measuring things precisely so she ends up just measuring things by eye.

Q: Is there anyone that's faster than Morgianna running?
A: As long as they don't use magic, djinn equip, or fly, I don't think so… If anyone can run at that speed in real life, that'd be really scary…

Morgianna Q&A:
Q: What do you do to get so strong?
M: I train my muscles when I have time.
Q: As expected. What do you specifically?
M: Let's see, I do handstand pushups and situps… I suppose.
Q: And how many do you do at a time?
M: How many…? I just do as many as I can in the free time I have.
Q: That's…. probably an amazing amount.
M: Really? And I do that while holding boulders.
Q: Oh… (Fanalis are so strong…) Is there anyone stronger than you?
M: I'm nowhere near as strong as Masrur-san.
Q: He is your training master after all.
M: My goal is to one day become stronger than Masrur-san. Once, everyone arm wrestled with Masrur-san and they all lost to him before he could count to ten….
Q: He's really strong, isn't he. By the way, Morgianna. Do you have any interest in fashionable clothes that would show off those beautiful muscles?
M: I don't know what would be good clothes to wear. I'd wear whatever you tell me to.
Q: Oh my! Then please wear what you wore during the Mahrajan…!
M: That's right… That reminds me, I walked around town with Masrur-san before.
Q: Huh!? You're gonna gloss over that?
M: I saw some clothes but I still don't get what would be good to buy. But I saw something else really good. This?
Q: W-what exactly is this…?
M: Metal plates I could use as weights. If I swing this, it can work out my entire body. I can get stronger with this!
Q: …do your best.

A: That will be revealed in the "Adventures of Sindbad" that's currently running in Ura Sunday, so please look forward to that.

Q: What is the age range for women that's okay for him to go after?
A: When he's drinking, the age range widens for older women. He did lay his hands one a grandma once after all. Maybe when he's drunk he becomes more attracted to an older woman's charm.

Q: What's the worst thing he's done while drunk?
A: He himself doesn't think he's done anything bad, only the people around him suffer. Even if he makes a mistake, it works out in the end so he doesn't think he made one in the first place.

Sindbad Q&A:
Q: So I've heard you're on a strict alcohol ban right now…?
S: Yeah, Ja'far keeps nagging about abstaining. He's stored away all the alcohol so the ban succeeds this time. To be honest…. it…. it's really hard.
Q: If it's so hard on you why does he insist on banning alcohol?
S: The eight generals all keep complaining that I'm a bad drunk. Especially Ja'far, he doesn't want me to get drunk in case I lay my hands on any ladies. He doesn't want the kingdom to overflow with my illegitimate children. Masrur even joked about keeping a lock around my groin.
Q: That's pretty bad.
S: Well, in the end, I've got my own reasons not to drink like not being able to work, dealing with painful hangovers, and I'm beginning to worry about my belly a little…
Q: How long does this alcohol ban last?
S: Just one more week from today. Last night I dreamed of swimming in a ocean of wine, beer, and mead. I saw everything in double, no triple… Everything was emitting light, it was a wonderful scene.
Q: These are withdrawal symptoms…!
S: The truth is, I need a drink so bad, I can't stand it. I need to plead to Ja'far to let me drink with some conditions.
Q: About that, I have a message from Ja'far. "If you can go without any women troubles for one month, I won't complain no matter how much you drink" is what he says.
S: Augh! I can't go a month without drinking..!? I can't believe how much the eight generals don't trust me…. I've never made a mistake drinking!!

Q: Huuuh? But you're hanging out with Judar, the guy you hated so much, now. How is there nothing to talk about?
H: ……..
Q: You didn't answer to Kouen's call either… but you went to where they were anyways. Were you lonely?
H: We have our own motives. It's none of your business.
Q: You're so cold. Oh, speaking of Kouen, there are some nice vibes between him and your sister lately, huh?
H: (Wince)
Q: Your sister's been going along with Kouen's ideals, right… um… nevermind (he's making such a scary face…) Oh, t-that's right, you knew Alibaba was there too, right? You could have at least said hello to him?
H: I can't face him…. as of now.
Q: Morgianna either?
H: (Flinch) Y-yes.
Q: Huuuh? Even though you said you'd be coming back for her?
H: Urgh. I-it's not the right time yet, nor is it the time to do it…… a-anyways, none of that actually matters!
Q: Huh? Is that so?
H: Y-yes.
Q: It doesn't matter, does it…… I have some new information on Morgianna too….. but it guess it's useless now.
H: Huh…
Q: Like about that, or about him…… Well, it can't be helped I guess.
H: No…. wait.
Q: Thank you for your time today! Excuse me!
H: W-wait just a second! Hey, I'm telling you to wait! Hey!

Ohtaka Shinobu Q&A:
Q: Why is Hakuryuu good at cooking when Hakuei taught him to but she's not?
A: She herself thinks she's good at it but maybe her taste buds are broken (lol) And Hakuryuu praises her so it's no wonder she's like that. [tn: kinda unsure about this]

Q: What does she actually think of Kouen?
A: Well she doesn't hate him like Hakuryuu but it wasn't long ago that she was in a higher position than him so she has mixed feelings.

Ohtaka Shinobu Q&A:
Q: Does she do her own make-up?
A: She does it herself and likes to. Kakoubun wanted to produce her and said "That plain face just won't do" and she still does it. [tn: produce as in an idol producer]

Q: Where did she get her hairpin?
A: When she became conscious of her position as a princess, Producer Kakoubun gave it to her.

Ren Kougyoku Q&A:
Q: You were told that your make-up was too gaudy in the beginning, so how long does it take to put on your make-up?
K: …………………. (crack!)
Q: Ow! What are you doing!?
K: I should be saying that! How am I gaudy?
Q: But everybody says you're ga….
K: ………(crack!) Say it one more time and you'll fall victim to my Extreme Magic.
Q: Please excuse my rudeness. Then what's the secret to maintaining your beautiful skin…?
K: That's a good question. The secret, you say. Well it's to bath with various fruits, and have your skin absorb the water. The bathing technique Judar-chan told me a while back was also quite nice.
Q: Would that Judar be so kind…. are you sure you're not being tricked?
K: It's true he tricked me with the Gerozoma tribe's technique of bathing with piggies but…. Bathing with little boars that have drawings of the person you love had a great affect!
Q: ………………………. B-by the way, who is your sword training partner?
K: Mostly Kakoubun. Kouen oni-sama is busy and Judar-chan doesn't want too… Kakoubun has taught me so many things since I was little. Although he does talk about difficult things like how to be a good ruler. I was really grateful that he accompanied me to a dungeon.
Q: Kakoubun sure is a passionate man! Is there anything you'd like to do recently?
K: Of course! There are tons of things! What I want to do the most have a "girl's meeting!" You talk about love while eating delicious snacks, right? Sigh, I want a girl friend around my age… I'm always alone while eating too, I'm lonely…. Are there any good people I could meet……
Q: Well first, why don't you just less make-up on?
A: ……….(crack!)

Q: What are the balls in Judar's hair?
A: They just have air in them. He probably wanted them to look like that, yep. Maybe the Al Thamen lied to him saying, "the more magnificent your braid is, the better magi you are."

Judar Q&A:
Q: If we're talking about Judar, then we have to mention your beautiful slender yet macho figure…
J: I guess.

Ohtaka Shinobu Q&A:
Q: Titus has such a strong interest in the outside world but how did he spend his first 14 years of life?
A: He was not able to go outside for the first 14 years since he was in a larva-like state and during that time he was only told about the magic world. That's why he was so happy to see things like "shops" the first time he visited the outside world.

Q: So his rapier is a Reim staff, but does it have any cutting power?
A: The staff itself has no killing power. Titus doesn't have much physical strength so he couldn't use a sword in the first place.

Q: Can any magi create clones of themselves?

Ohtaka Shinobu World

Interview:

[How to create charming characters]

How are the characters in "magi created?

O: When I create characters for manga, I often think them up as a set of two or three characters. In "Magi's" case, I thought up Aladdin and Alibaba together. At the time, I hadn't even decided their names and started with their personalities. Afterwards I named them Aladdin and Alibaba, and with Alibaba the world of "Magi's" motif became "The Arabian Night." Among them is of course the famous story of "Alibaba and the 40 Thieves" which is where I got the idea to have him be part of a bandit group. And Aladdin's flute that has Ugo-kun is the lamp that had to be rubbed to have the djinn come out in the original story.

It seems like your progress went by fast.

O: That's right. I decide it all at once and write by seeing how the character's relationships go.

Relationship?

O: I think it's the worst when you line up your characters and there are two that have the same personalities next to each other, so I try to avoid that. I created Aladdin, then Alibaba, and tried to include Morgianna naturally. I made her a bit more calm so there's more balance between her and Aladdin and Alibaba, who are more cheerful. I try to get that balance with the other characters too. Like, if wouldn't be good if they were all idiots or straight-men…right?

So you create this character because another is like that to build their relationship. Do you choose their gender by trying to balance things too?

O: There are lots of times that I don't decide their gender until the last minute. It's not decided even after I decide their personalities. Aladdin was supposed be a girl until I changed it last minute and I had the idea that Sindbad was female too. I loved Shiina Takashi's "Ghost Sweeper Mikami: The Great Paradise Battle!!" since I was young and I've always had it in my mind to create a manga with female protagonist. The manga I drew up until now had lots of female characters, but in "Magi's" case my editors revised it well to be more of a shonen manga. Sindbad always had a largehearted personality, but it's not like he would have been introduced naked if he were still a woman. Also his name is from "Arabian Nights" but their personalities and abilities are different. But the fact he's a king with subordinates is from "Arabian Nights." Masrur was supposed to be a black swordsman, the Dark Continent was supposed to be like Africa, and so Morgianna became a Fanalis too… Ja'far was a prime minister and made that culture, and I ignored half of his original backstory and took the other half.

After that do you create the characters that support the story?

O: The Eight Generals were just Sindbad, Ja'far and Masrur and then I thought up the other six at the same time. Like Kougyoku was part of the Kou Empire group, so there's Judar, and then Kakoubun next to her. There's a core person in the group and then I try to create who would be fun characters around them. The core person is always the first person to be introduced. And then I try to think of a good team that would suit them.

Their names are from "Arabian Nights" but when you create other characters, do you base them off anyone? For example, a real life handsome celebrity?

O: Based off a real person… that hasn't really happened. I do base them off animals though. When I try to decide their appearance, I think of how an animal would look as a person. And some characteristics aren't limited to their appearance. Like Morgianna jumping around and leaping is similar to a rabbit, or Judar's hair is supposed to look like a scorpion's tail. Kougyoku has a butterfly on her hairpin but her hair is also supposed to look like wings. I don't draw them with literal animal ears or tails but I try to make them fit the image I have in my head while not being too literal. Although lately, I've been running out of ideas. Ren Kouen was actually a request from my editor to make a character opposing Sindbad. He was actually created right after the third volume. He wasn't able to appear immediately though. I tried to make him have more Asian features. Also he's not supposed to be very well-kept… I try to draw a handsome guy that's not really handsome, kinda defiant. Any of my characters are defiant of something in my mind.

[The silhouette is the most important part of a design!!]

When you're designing a character, do you feel a sort of satisfaction?

O: Well let's see. When I'm writing my name, if I do it in only a few strokes, I think to myself "I did it!" Like for Alibaba, you just have a horn so I feel a satisfaction from that. You can draw Alibaba as just a horn so anyone could draw him. His horn's just getting bigger and bigger too (lol) Special features just get bigger. You have to try harder when you want a distinguished silhouette. Morgianna having a side ponytail is for that reason. If you don't have a design that's easily recognizable by a pitch black silhouette, then it's no good.

What about the designs for Djinn Equip?

O: Djinn Equip is like becoming one with a djinn so I based them of Buddhist gods, so I just went through books on Buddhist statues. They're too small in books so I want to go to Kyoto and take pictures for references. Focalor is a wind djinn so I tried to make him like Fujin. At first I thought of making him hold a bag but he ended up wearing something like a hagoromo (tn: heavenly kimono for gods), and when I realized it was a hagoromo, I decided to make them all like that. But I think it ended up being a good thing since they look a bit godly. I think my work expanded thanks to djinn equip, and while it's become very troublesome to draw, I'm also grateful.

You say it was troublesome drawing that, but do you have characters that are easier or harder for you to draw? Any characters you dote or hate?

O: The 3 main characters are easy to draw. Morgianna is especially the easiest. Not only just in drawing but when Aladdin and Alibaba are wavering, Morgianna will give a resolving answer. I don't try to make characters I like or hate but if I had to choose, I like Budel. I like people that give into their desires because it makes them more human. And, well, it's not like I hate him, but it's a bit hard for me to draw a plain face. Like I can't draw Ja'far with a more showy face. It's the same with Kouen. But I want the characters to look different so I have to be careful. It's also a bit hard for me to draw droopy eyes, and it's easiest to draw sharp eyes. A while ago, I was troubled that Hakuryuu's face was inconsistent. He is kinda emotionally unstable after all. I draw while sympathizing with whatever feeling my character feels, so I felt Hakuryuu's negative feelings while drawing him, which made me really tired. The script was quite heavy (bitter laugh)

Other mangaka often talk about how they have the same expression as the character they're drawing at the time too. Out of all the characters, do you have any that you liked coupling together?

O: I wanted to draw Alibaba and Hakuryuu more together, but the only time they spent peacefully was in volume 13. There was so much more I wanted them to do but it turned pretty bleak. I want them to hurry up and make up. In the beginning, I wanted to make them super great best friends! but they didn't get along as well as I thought. There are times when things just don't go the way I planned. Even if there are characters I want to get along, sometimes it just doesn't go that way. Another thing is I think Alibaba and Morgianna's relationship has become a bit mysterious. At a glance, they do suit each other since they understand each other but the truth is they don't really actually know each other that well.

Are there any character's settings that have changed as the story went on?

O: I do plan out the characters out but there are times I don't know who they'll be involved with and go in a different direction than I planned. Like Kassim and his gang were supposed to become their friends, and Judar was suppose to win against Aladdin and Ugo-kun in volume 5. But when I was writing up my name, I thought to myself "This guy can't win." Instead of being stubborn about what I decided, I thought it'd be okay if some things change. I decided to let the story flow naturally and by the middle of the arc, everything goes in a different direction. During the Magnostadt arc, Mogamett wasn't supposed to be an important character. They were supposed to fight with Titus more but that grandpa kinda just had lots of things to say. So the arc went into a different direction.

[Raise your spirits and draw everything in one go]

Are there any backstories that happen backstage when writing "Magi?" How is it like when writing up the name?

O: I do this while working on the pages too, but while writing my name, I listen to video game soundtracks. Lately I've been listening to the "Final Fantasy 6" soundtrack. I feel like I can't escape the 90s. I'm not too into games but I've played that one. While working, I get pretty sleepy so I want someone to be talking, no matter what it is. I used to turn on the TV but it distracted me so I don't do that anymore. I work from 10am to 10pm and get 7~8 hours of sleep. I have 5~6 assistants right now and for each chapter, they work 3 days and 2 nights, and I do the sketches so it takes about 4 days. There are times I eat before going into work and times when I don't want to fall asleep so I don't eat. When I work, I forcibly try to raise my spirit up and draw. I listen to music or watch movies and become really spirited.

Are there any series you're inspired by?

O: Shiina Takashi's "Ghost Sweeper Mikami's" had a great effect on me. I think the character's personalities are great and amazing. I think it's great that all the character's personalities are a bit twisted but you can't help but like them. The manga I read when I was in elementary school and middle school had the greatest effect on me.

Lastly, please tell us about what will come in "Magi."

O: I can't go into details but, I want to delve into the characters I haven't drawn much of so far. I want Judar and Hakuryuu-kun to work hard, so please watch out for their actions! Aladdin and Alibaba will meet more people and have more adventures so even I am excited to see how they'll grow. There will be more romance too so watch out for which couples will get together and which loves will not bloom. I think "Magi" is enjoyable in many different ways so I hope my readers will enjoy what happens to their favorite characters!!

I can't take my eyes of "Magi" even more now. Ohtaka-sensei, thank you for your time today.

Translator's comments:

I think that's all the important/interesting translations from this. If you're questioning why so and so character interview or profile isn't translated, it's because they didn't have one. Which was kinda disappointing since Kassim didn't have one?? There are also two character's profiles I didn't bother to translate because they were so minor and I didn't care enough (they're two magicians from Magnostadt that weren't even named to my knowledge??) So I was disappointed that there are incredibly minor characters that got profiles but not even Kassim or Olba did but oh well. There is maybe one more thing I want to translate, which is how Ohtaka draws her pages but I think I'll do that in a different post. Also all the character spellings are from the Magi Wiki. Sorry for misspelling them in previous stuff.

Feel free to repost this info anywhere you'd like but know that these aren't 100% accurate.

Also it'd be cool if people could maybe donate… if you appreciate what i do and have extra money ;; ~~(this did take 20+ hours so….)~~
